

AGENDA

International Scientific and Practical Conference «Small Farmers of Ukraine and the EU: Commonalities and Differences in the New Reality», November 21, 2025

|               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11:00 – 11:10 | WELCOME ADDRESS FROM THE ORGANIZERSOlena BORODINA – Institute for Economics and Forecasting, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; rUAr project, IRWiR PANBrian KUNS – Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU), Sweden |
| 11:10 – 11:25 | Liudmyla SHEVCHENKO – «Olymp Agro» farm, Verkhnodniprovsk district, Dnipropetrovsk region                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 11:25 – 11:40 | Valeriy BUROV – Private Entrepreneur «Almond Orchards Nursery», Oleksandriia district, Kirovohrad region                                                                                                                                                  |
| 11:40 – 11:55 | Jose ALBERTO EGEA LAROSSA – Center for Edaphology and Applied Biology of Segura (CEBAS-CSIC), Senior Researcher                                                                                                                                           |
| 11:55 – 12:10 | Mykola STRYZHAK – «Sojus» Farm, Znamianka district, Kirovohrad region                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 12:10 – 12:25 | Ramona DUMINICIOIU – Family farm, Valcea county, Romania; President of the Romanian Small Farmers Association «ECO RURALIS»                                                                                                                               |
| 12:25 – 12:40 | Fredrik KJELLRÖIER – Bjorkby gard Farm, Sweden                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 12:40 – 12:55 | Małgorzata KACPERCZYK-KOPCIŃSKA – Private farm, Zwolen district, Mazovian voivodeship                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 12:55 – 13:05 | Vitaliy KRUPIN – rUAr project, IRWiR PAN                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 13:05 – 13:20 | Claudia CUPIDI – Multifunctional family farm «Fattoria Cupidi», Gallese (VT), Lazio region, Italy                                                                                                                                                         |
| 13:20 – 13:30 | Andrea FERRANTE – Director of the International School of Agroecology «Agroecology School» (Italy)                                                                                                                                                        |
| 13:30 – 13:40 | Viktor HONCHARENKO – President of the Association of Farmers and Private Landowners of Ukraine (AFZU)                                                                                                                                                     |
| 13:40 – 14:00 | Concluding remarks (Q&amp;A)                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

SVERIGES
LANTBRUKSUNIVERSITET

IRWIR PAN

RUAR
REBUILD RURAL
UKRAINE

